Bona Fide Retirement Period for Licensed Teacher Study - David Martin and Matt Carver

David Martin and Matt Carver reported the initial data-gathering phase is complete and the membership data is ready to send to the actuary, Cavanaugh Macdonald, if the BAC would like to proceed with the cost study.

The study will look at the cost impact to the System of shortening the bona fide retirement period for licensed teacher for a period of 5 years from the date of enactment. The study will determine what the actuarial contribution rate will be to the System's members and employers in the following ways: 1) impact on the actuarial contribution rate if the benefit enhancement was applied across the board to all Regular members; 2) cost impact if applied to licensed teachers and their employers; and 3) cost impact if applied to only school employers who rehire licensed teachers who have been retired less than four months as a licensed teacher.

The approximate cost for the study is $25,000. Matt Carver made the motion to approve proceeding with the cost study on a shortened bona fide retirement period for licensed teachers and paying for the study from the BAC's budget. Melissa Peterson seconded. The motion carried by unanimous roll call vote.
